

Agreement 4/2005 for the utilisation of funds set aside for transformatory measures was signed together with a project plan outlining the various initiatives on 13 June 2005.

The task team established to deal with the running of the projects comprises of 4 representatives from the South African Police Services (SAPS), 3 representatives from the South African Police Union (SAPU) and 2 representatives from the Police and Prisons Civil Rights Union (POPCRU).

The main aim of the Agreement is to improve service delivery of the South African Police Services by embarking on the following initiatives:

Establishment/Creation of Information Centres

The Task Team, in consultation with SAPS Library Services, identified a need for the creation of information centres at police stations to assist SAPS members whilst dealing with various crimes as well as victims of crimes.

In order to achieve this objective a set of law publications, Bound Statutes for 2006/2007 and Posters were purchased.

Publications purchased are:

1. Applied law for Police officials;
2. Criminal Procedure Handbook;
3. Criminal Law;
4. Principles of Evidence;
5. Constitutional Criminal Procedure;
6. Street law South Africa learner's manual: practical law for South Africans;
7. Bound Statutes of South Africa 2006.

Posters which were purchased covered the following areas:

- Rape / Indecent Assault
- Housebreaking / Theft / Robbery
- Xenophobia
- Missing Children
- Domestic Violence and
- Trafficking of Women and Children

All Statutes, Publications, and Posters were handed over to SAPS Library Services for distribution to the identified Police Stations.

The Task Team identified Mmakau Police Station to launch the Information Centres. The Launch of Information Centres took place on the 14th of July 2006 whereby the SSSBC Chairperson; Prof. M Mthombeni officially handed over the publications, posters, and Statutes to National Commissioner J Selebi.

PUBLIC SERVICE REFORM WORKSHOPS (PSR)

Subsequent to Council attending the Training on Public Service Reform at the ILO in Turin, Italy, Council identified a need to host Public Service Reform (PSR) Workshops for members that did not attend the training in May 2008. The Lecturer, Prof. D Argyriades, a Professor of Public Administration and Author of six (6) modules on Public Service Reform (PSR) in close collaboration with the International Training Centre of the ILO, in Turin, was flown from New York to present the course to 84 Senior Managers from the various Council organisations (SAPS, POPCRU and SAPU).

A total of 84 (42 SAPS and 42 Organised Labour) participants attended the workshops which took place as follows:

- Session I : 11 to 13 August 2009 at Shumba Valley Hotel
- Session II : 17 to 19 August 2009 at Misty Hills Country Hotel

The main aim of the course was to enhance the participant's grasp of the nature and the processes of PSR and, therefore, their ability to set up and manage effective PSR programmes by applying modern managerial and participative HRM concepts and techniques for sustainable PSR.

The Lecturer, Prof. D Argyriades, indicated that he was pleased with the groups enthusiasm and participation in the workshops.

Women Development - Tactical Policing Level II

The aim of this course was to equip female SAPS members with theoretical and practical training in dealing with, inter alia, surviving, ambushes and dealing with day-to-day police activities.

~~50 members of the Vukosi sub-branch, 50 attended and 10 members were enabled~~
